The right conditions for innovation to work

The Cumulus Park Studio community is not from a single company, or industry, or discipline, or even country ... we are gathering a collection of diverse and vibrant thinkers and doers who push each other forward.

Business leaders and business owners, entrepreneurs and leading academics, bright-eyed students and government decision makers, the list goes on and on. And it's the unlikely, unusual and unrestrained collaborations between these individuals, businesses and institutions that creates the 'sparks'... the ideas that get us excited.
